

Protect Our NH 1st In The Nation Primary Advantage

I will oppose any attempts to implement broad based taxes, such as income or sales, in New Hampshire. I will also vote against legislation that might lead to government spending that would require funding by broad-based taxes. Government is not the solution to every problem. We must encourage personal responsibility and government accountability for spending taxpayer money.

I will oppose any attempts to tax social security or capital gains (particularly unrealized gains). The elimination of the dividend and interest tax will help our senior citizens retain more income to supplement social security and allow our state to join other states claiming no income taxes. New Hampshire is one of the fastest growing states in New England due to safety and quality of life. Our no income or sales taxes are other reasons new residents frequently mention as reasons for relocating to our state. These are New Hampshire Advantages we must preserve for future generations.

I will fight to preserve New Hampshire's First-In-The-Nation Primary Status. The economic impact of our Primary is significant for businesses in our state. It is estimated that media and visitor spending are approximately $71 million, hotel and restaurant sales are $43 million, transportation-related sales is $33 million and the state gets the equivalent of $6.6 million in tourism marketing due to the media's focus on the state during the Primary. The Democratic National Committee attempted to undermine New Hampshire's Primary legal standing and will do so again. New Hampshire's Congressional Delegation was powerless to stop them. For this, their voting against reasonable election integrity legislation, and other reasons, they need to be replaced when they come up for re-election. Lily Tang-Williams, a Republican, is the candidate I am supporting to replace Democratic Congresswoman Kuster.
